A system that worships at the altar of academic selection is always going to be results-led, and not child centred? #niedchat

30-Nov-11 20:40 | dmurray742

#niedchat hello all. Just here 4 a bit. Think that good results can often b a result of good thinking skills? Do they go hand in hand?

30-Nov-11 20:41 | RobertShaw88

(low flying grenade) @MrMalcontent #niedchat

30-Nov-11 20:41 | dmurray742

I think that the report was spot on in schools not encouraging thinking and innovation. *broad sweeping brush* #niedchat

30-Nov-11 20:41 | MrMalcontent

"@MrMalcontent: Is it because of our *traditional* hangover - results, results, results..."> probably & that begins in primary! #niedchat

30-Nov-11 20:42 | hezmar

@RobertShaw88 I suppose a good teacher will aim to develop thinking skills but there is a short-cut...rote learning! #Niedchat

30-Nov-11 20:43 | dmchugh675

@dmurray742 About time - but it does have a ring of truth. However, we have to practise and prepare or parents walk! Been there! #niedchat

30-Nov-11 20:43 | MrMalcontent

@RobertShaw88 If the curriculum and questions r broad enough. Problem for selection testing is that it is just exam training IMHO #niedchat

30-Nov-11 20:44 | MrMalcontent

RT @RobertShaw88: @dmchugh675 true esp in languages I suppose, but I think rote learning can only go so far... #Niedchat

30-Nov-11 20:45 | MrMalcontent

@MrMalcontent I don't envy your predicament. #niedchat

30-Nov-11 20:45 | dmurray742

Reminds me of the phrase, 'teach to the test'. Time is a factor & results seem 2 b the priority, so opps 4 creativity decrease. #niedchat

30-Nov-11 20:45 | ict4mfl

@dmurray742 there's no selection in Finland and they are top of the OECD comparison tables. No formal exams either! #Niedchat

30-Nov-11 20:48 | dmchugh675

Really sad that when showing prospective P1 & nursery parents around school, they all ask about transfer results! #niedchat

30-Nov-11 20:48 | hezmar

@MrMalcontent That's awful! When will our politicians/parents realise that selection = rejection = social apartheid? #niedchat

30-Nov-11 20:48 | dmurray742

Do we have to have local examples of success without the emphasis on academic selection? #niedchat

30-Nov-11 20:49 | MrMalcontent

@hezmar Crazy! #niedchat

30-Nov-11 20:49 | dmurray742

@MrMalcontent What we think is best and what parents think is best doesn't always match up. Not the fault of parents though. #Niedchat

30-Nov-11 20:49 | dmchugh675

@dmchugh675 You're right. Parents are a victim of this system. Politicians need to affect change, but are there votes in it? #niedchat

30-Nov-11 20:51 | dmurray742

@dmchugh675 Trouble is what parents know is what they grew up with - parents find it hard to comprehend a system without selection #niedchat

30-Nov-11 20:58 | MrMalcontent

The thing is, initially a lot of older pupils seem to prefer rote learning, not having to think, rather than active learning #niedchat

30-Nov-11 21:00 | amandasalt

ETI also have a part to play in all of this - their statistic comparisions are v unfair on honest schools #inflatedAUresults #niedchat

30-Nov-11 21:01 | MrMalcontent

@dmchugh675 Think that's the view of many staff/leaders though others are little more forward thinking! #niedchat

30-Nov-11 21:01 | hezmar

I am really pushing active learning with pupils and some love it, it is freaking others out but am persevering #niedchat

30-Nov-11 21:01 | amandasalt

@dmurray742 I disagree with streaming for most subjects. I think that most of the time kids can and should learn together. #Niedchat

30-Nov-11 21:01 | dmchugh675

What kills me is sying schls r blow NI avg. IT'S AN AVERAGE! OF COURSE THERE ARE SCHOOLS BELOW IT! READ THE DEFINITION (rant over) #niedchat

30-Nov-11 21:02 | MrMalcontent

even within schools, depts that give all handouts for rote learning can prove v popular, where pupils 'know' all answers #niedchat

30-Nov-11 21:02 | amandasalt

"@MrMalcontent: ETI also have a part to play in all of this-their statistic comparisions are v unfair on honest schools #niedchat" > Agree!

30-Nov-11 21:03 | hezmar

@dmchugh675 I agree. Only subj in our school where it persists is Maths at KS4. Apparently there are good reasons. #niedchat

30-Nov-11 21:03 | dmurray742

@amandasalt I have also observed this, but from a language perspective, it worries me that some don't fully understand the content #niedchat

30-Nov-11 21:03 | ict4mfl

@dmchugh675 hmm, am on the fence a little re streaming, not sure what best #niedchat

30-Nov-11 21:03 | amandasalt

There has to be rote learning, of course there has to be, but not a curriculum dominated by it! #niedchat

30-Nov-11 21:03 | MrMalcontent

@dmurray742 I think most studies show that streaming in Maths is a good idea. #Niedchat

30-Nov-11 21:07 | MrMalcontent

@dmchugh675 it is good to rote learn verbs, endings etc for languages, but also need structures to feel able to manipulate lang #niedchat

30-Nov-11 21:08 | amandasalt

@amandasalt #niedchat yea tot agree. Think kids actually prefer langs when they actually get it as apposed to learning it off.
